Letter from Principal

I hope this message finds you all in good health and high spirits. As the principal of The Kirori Mal College, I am delighted to announce that our college's 'National Service Scheme'(NSS) Unit is going to publish the first ever magazine of its own titled 'संयुक्त: Together We Stand'. I applaud NSS-KMC for providing its decade long selfless service to the society and hope that they continue to do so to their best capacity in the future. From the inception of Sahyog in 2013, it has precisely stood out on its motto of 'Not Me But You'. The volunteers have been zestful from the first day itself and have been organising everyday Each One Teach One (EOTO) sessions , cleanliness drives, women and children empowerment drives, speaker sessions, blood donation camps , self defence workshops etc. The children with humble backgrounds have been the greatest beneficiaries of my personal favourite initiative, the EOTO sessions .Some of the flagship events like Sahyog Day celebration , NSS founders day, Umang, Women Conclave , Aashayein, Kirori Mal Youth Parliament etc. have been organised with the same zeal over the years by the volunteers. I express my gratitude to all the members of NSS-KMC who have worked their heart out to publish this magazine . I thereby send my sincere blessings and best wishes. Prof

Letter from Programme Officer

I am extremely delighted to present the foreword for the report, being especially made on occasion of completion of a fruitful and accomplishing DECADE of Sahyog wing of the NSS unit of the college.

National Service Scheme (NSS) at National level was established in 1969 and Kirori Mal College has been at the forefront in the establishment of NSS not only at the University level but also at the National level. There are two wings at NSS-KMC, 'Shayog-sharing smiles and 'Sahas-women empowerment wing'. The Sahyog wing of NSS needs a special mention, since, herein each of our volunteers is involved in the teaching-learning of the underprivileged children from the nearby Chandrawal village. This activity was started in 2013 and our volunteers have successfully enlightened the lives of hundreds of the underprivileged children in last one decade. Even the Covid-19 pandemic couldn't deter our volunteers. I joined as Program Officer in 2020, when due to pandemic the educational institutions were closed, and we all were working online. The NSS volunteers too, went online and started taking online classes of those Chandrawal village students who had spare mobile phones with their parents.

This continued till the college reopened. At NSS-KMC we engage these underprivileged students for their holistic development. Apart from regular teaching-learning, which happens daily between 3.00 pm and 5.00 pm, the last half an hour of each day is dedicated for the sports activities of these children. To foster creativity among them, we organise annual festival named 'Umang' in which these children perform sports and cultural activities.

Under Sahas-wing, the focus is to carry out such activities which impacts the women for their betterment. That culminates in Women Conclave, an annual event involving activities with renowned women and activists. Apart from all the above, NSS-KMC also carries out seminars, workshops, self-defence training programs etc. Celebration of the national/international events is the another hallmark of the NSS unit of the college. Periodic visit to the old-age homes, the orphanages develop a sense of empathy amongst our NSS volunteers.

Thus a Decade of Sahyog and more than five decades of NSS-KMC has played crucial roles in shaping the lives of the countless numbers of children, women and even our NSS volunteers.

We hope to carry this forward to the next generation and also to the other NSS-units in the University and in the country.

With best regards,

Ram Sunil Kumar Lalji

Greetings to the remarkable members of the NSS-KMC family,

In the academic year 2022-2023, it is with immense honor and gratitude that I accept the role of President within our esteemed National Service Scheme at Kirori Mal College, University of Delhi. I extend my heartfelt thanks to all who dedicated their time and trust in selecting me for this prestigious position.

We recognize the challenges that lie ahead, given the recent years' tumultuous changes, and we accept the task with open hearts.

Notably, we proudly acknowledge that NSS-KMC's Sahyog project marks a decade of success this year, celebrated through engaging interactions with our esteemed alumni. I have full confidence that, with the collective support of each stakeholder – from the Convener, Council members, non-teaching staff, Sahyog students, to all Sahyogis – we can achieve this monumental mission.

Our upcoming agenda will be filled with exciting events for both SAHAS and SAHYOG projects, staying true to our unit's motto, "Sahas se sahyog karein."

As I sign off, I extend my warmest seasonal compliments to each and every one of you and eagerly anticipate ushering in a prosperous and unforgettable New Year.

Note From Vice-President

I extend my heartfelt gratitude for giving me this opportunity to be the Vice President of such an esteemed organisation "National service scheme". I am privileged to be a part of this organisation and I promise to work relentlessly for the betterment of the society.

"Sahas se Sahyog Karein" The motto of NSS KMC brings a positive energy around me and the beautiful place of ours -The basketball court (area where we teach sahyog students) has a different aura , that place isn't a basketball court only for me but also a place to revive my childhood . It is not only a place to teach but also a place to learn from these small kids of chandrawal .

We are teaching almost 100 students on an average and seeing the smiles of these 100 students makes me realise that "Nothing is impossible in this world , if you are determined to do it" .

Peace begins in me after seeing the laughter filled faces of sahyog students . And there I started my NSS journey with the project Sahyog -Sharing smiles.

And not only these I have learnt so many things from Project Sahas and various drives and events . That's the beauty of NSS we organise various events with the same dedication and enthusiasm whether it is class awareness or the grand event like Aashayein .

I encourage all the team members to stay engaged , continue giving your time , dedication, support to the cause that matter the most .

Hail NSS KMC . Sahas se Sahyog Karein.

Regards,
Ruchika Bansal
Vice President

Note From Editor-in-Chief

I am delighted to know that National Service Scheme, Kirori Mal College - bringing out the first edition of its annual magazine 'Sanyukt-together we stand'.

College is a 'once in a lifetime' opportunity that opens a new window to home and foster new skills and shape one's personality through several programs-both curricular and cocurricular. So, it has been my endeavour to work with the magazine of NSS KMC. This magazine is a humble effort in the same direction as it provides platform for creative expression and to pen down one's thoughts on the paper. I am sure that the magazine will provide an excellent prospect for young minds to express their views, explore beyond the realms of the classroom, gain insight with Sahyog students.

Before moving forward, I would like to offer a word of thanks to our readers and the whole team who've worked together to bring out the best of themselves into this issue of the newsletter. It has been a privilege working for the newsletter, this has been an incredible medium for me to explore my competencies in various ways. I want to express my heartfelt gratitude for the entire NSS unit for continued support. I hope our readers will enjoy reading it as much as we enjoyed the process of making it.

Warm regards,
Anshika Sharma,
Editor-in-Chief

Note From General Secretary

Greetings Readers,

It's my honour to be given a chance to write for the magazine of this esteemed place called the National Service Scheme, Kirori Mal College. It's my final year of graduation this year, and it's time to remember that one piece of advice I got from my elder sister before I stepped into my college life. The advice wasn't a big paragraph or speech, just two words that said, 'Explore everything'. This may look like another normal set of words, but it has made me what I am today. From a person who hesitates and stutters to give a general introduction to a person who is one of the confident individuals who can talk to anyone anywhere. This transition wasn't at all possible without being a part of Kirori Mal College and, of course, the National Service Scheme at Kirori Mal College, which will always be one of the best decisions of my life and the most significant part of my college life. I joined NSS in my first year just for the sake of joining a society, as I was told one thing: 'It's a great thing to do, and a certificate holds a great value.' and to yet another surprise life daily gives me, when I started working, certificates didn't hold much value. I was even alright with the fact that no certificate would be issued to me. Sahyog: Sharing smiles, which is one of the important projects of NSS KMC, is something that works daily in the form of 'Each one, Teach one' sessions and constitutes the feeling NSS KMC holds: those hellos, those biess, those moments of not being able to teach the simplest thing, those moments when we play, those students who remembered my name and kept asking for me on my day of leave, and most importantly, The part of us, those smiles will always remember, and the role of ours, which will always be there in those crucial lives, is making the farewell harder and harder every day.

From volunteer to coordinator to office bearer, the journey was amazing but not at all easy. There were days of not feeling like doing anything; there were days of blaming others; there were days of handling things with a lot of pressure; there were days of prioritising this place over everything. This all was tough at the time but has well contributed to making me a better version of myself, which I will cherish forever. The memories, experiences, and opportunities I got from here will always be tagged in my heart till the end of my life.

To the juniors who are reading this, I want to convey what I got: "Explore Everything". Closing this, I would like to thank the readers for staying up until now. Thank you, NSS KMC, for being fantastic to me.

Best regards
Harshita Ahuja
General Secretary

Note From Joint Secretary

In the bustling by-lanes of Delhi, where the cacophony of life drowns out the whispers of hope, Khushal Dahiya, Joint Secretary of NSS KMC Unit, took it upon himself to ignite the flames of knowledge and empowerment among the underprivileged childrens of our adopted Chandrawal village. With a heart brimming with empathy and determination, he joined the Sahyog team in his first year of college and committed to uplifting the marginalized communities.

As dawn broke, he embarked on a journey that transcended the confines of traditional education. With an unwavering spirit, he braved the challenges of scarce resources and societal barriers to bring the light of education to those who needed it the most. Through innovative teaching methods and a personalized approach in the daily 3-5pm Each One Teach One Sessions, he fostered a nurturing environment where these children could not only learn but also dream beyond their circumstances.

His dedication went beyond the EOTO Sessions as he became a friend, and a beacon of hope for those who had often been overlooked by society.

With every milestone achieved, his belief in the transformative power of education only grew stronger. He witnessed firsthand how knowledge could empower these young minds, instilling within them a sense of confidence and purpose. Beyond imparting academic knowledge, he emphasized life skills and character development, nurturing a generation of resilient and empathetic individuals ready to make their mark on the world.

His story serves as a reminder that even in the face of adversity, the human spirit has the power to create ripples of change, illuminating the path towards a more equitable and inclusive future for all.

Warm regards
Khushal Dahiya
Joint Secretary

Note From Treasurer

I want to express my sincere thanks for granting me the chance to serve as the Treasurer of the highly regarded "National Service Scheme." I feel honored to be a member of this organization and I am committed to working tirelessly to improve our community. It's worth noting that we take great pride in recognizing that NSS-KMC's Sahyog project is celebrating its tenth successful year. It's only the 10 years celebration, I wish to see many more 10's of years of glory, pride and honor of NSS KMC. NSS is not just an organisation but a family to me.

Teaching accounts to sahyog students was like the best experience ever. These kids smiles brings a positive and a magnificent aura in the surroundings and brings a smile on my face too. The whole day's tiredness fades away after talking to them about their day to day chores.

I wish and pray that many of these kids do well in the future. As your treasurer, I want to emphasize our commitment to transparency and accountability. We will continue to work tirelessly to maximize the impact of your support and ensure that our finances are used wisely.

Warm regards
Kovid Jain

SAHYOG: SHARING SMILES

Celebrating

Glorious 10 years of Selfless Service..

Our beloved project, Sahyog-Sharing Smiles completed its 10 years of selfless services on 23rd September, 2023. To mark the significance of the day, we had a virtual celebration with our super seniors and founder of our Project.

SAHYOG: SHARING SMILES

EACH ONE TEACH ONE (EOTO) SESSIONS

SAHYOG Project of NSS KMC Unit aims to provide quality education to the underprivileged children of Chandrawal village via Each One Teach One sessions (EOTO). In EOTO sessions, children till grade 12th are taught on a regular basis in the college premises. Children of lower classes are also engaged in playtime every day. Through EOTO sessions, we ensure that their education is not only limited to academics, but also contributes towards their overall personality development. The children are made aware of the future responsibilities that await them as well as their rights and duties as a citizen of this country.

Though, Covid-19 pandemic raised many obstacles, but braving such odds, mobile facilities were given to few of the children and we continued our EOTO sessions in those unprecedented times as well. Classes were conducted in online mode for about one and a half year, and the timings and schedules were made as per the availability of mobile phones with the children. Thus, EOTO sessions have enabled the students to excel in their academics

हम जब सहयोग की बात करते हैं तो यह न सिर्फ हमारे जीवन का सबसे भावुक जीवंत हिस्सा है बल्कि हमारे आसपास की भावी पीढ़ी की उन्नति के लिए किए जा रहे निवेश में हमारा छोटा सा योगदान है। सहयोग एक संस्था के तौर पर वर्ष 2013 से जैसा नाम वैसा भाव की धारणा को सार्थक रूप से निभाता आ रहा है। हमारा यह मानना है कि जब सक्षम व्यक्ति किसी भावी पीढ़ी को शिक्षित करता है तो वह न सिर्फ उस व्यक्ति के जीवन को नए आयाम देने का प्रयास करता है बल्कि समाज के उस संपूर्ण हिस्से में उम्मीद एक नई किरण को जगाता है। इससे ज़्यादा हर्ष और क्या होगा कि किरोड़ीमल कॉलेज की इसी सहयोग संस्था से पढ़ने वाला विद्यार्थी जब कॉलेज में एक स्नातक विद्यार्थी के रूप में प्रवेश पाता है और वापिस आकर एक नई पीढ़ी को शिक्षित करता है, यही संस्कृति ही हमारी विरासत है। सहयोग से पढ़े हुए विद्यार्थी आज न सिर्फ दिल्ली विश्वविद्यालय बल्कि अन्य विश्वविद्यालयों के छात्र हैं और स्वयं व अपने परिवार के जीवन को एक नई एवं बेहतर दिशा में ले जा रहे हैं।

Back in 2015, I joined Sahyog, National Service Scheme in Kirori Mal college, with an idea of contributing something to society but in this journey, I have received and learned much more than expected. It has taught me the true essence of Sahyog — sharing smiles and I've gained insights into life's real struggles, and the joy that small gestures can bring and many more things which are beyond textbooks. The time spent with the kids, teaching them from 3 pm to 6 pm, became the highlight of my day. While teaching them I could recall the basics of science and mathematics, which strengthened my roots as well. Beyond that we involved children in sports and extracurricular activities, and at that moment we ourselves were back in our childhood.

Celebrating every festival, from Diwali to Eid and Republic Day to Hindi Diwas, taught me a lot about India's diverse culture. As a political science student, Sahyog helped me grasp the true meaning of 'Unity in Diversity' and understand the essence of the Preamble. We actively participated in various activities like Swachh Bharat Abhiyan, blood donation drives, Diwali melas, sports fests, self-defense training, menstruation awareness programs, and a 'Good touch bad touch' seminar.

One of the significant initiatives which had contributed extensively to my academic knowledge was 'Project Jaanakaari' where we conducted a survey in Chandarwal district to analyze the conditions of women and children in the area. This survey gave us an insight into the lives of people in the district and allowed us to plan for future interventions.

The National Service Scheme has played a significant role in my life, and its impact continues. The streets of Chandarwal, which once filled me with fear, now feel like a second home. I still visit them, especially on my birthday, as there's no better celebration than enjoying a home-cooked meal prepared by one of my student's mothers. The bonds which were created there with students and with fellow volunteers continue and play a significant role in my life. This journey with NSS has been a profound learning experience, shaping my perspective on life and for that, I am endlessly grateful.

Hey, NSS FAMILY!!

First of all,

I'm delighted to hear this news of publishing a magazine of our beloved NSS family and appreciating the efforts put by all the people to make this publishing happen.

When I joined the NSS I didn't know then that I would involve this much with this family, that it will become an irreplaceable part of my life!

I learnt so much from all the teachers(Program officers),volunteers and students.

All those kids gave me so much happiness and satisfaction throughout my NSS time,

I can easily say that was the golden time of my life!

It was a lovely experience of organising Diwali mela and Umang and many other activities together with all the volunteers and students and creating a lovely bonding with each and everyone.

Playing with the kids daily gave me so much happiness,those half an hour was like sunshine in any gloomy day for me.

When the students of our family took admission in our own University of Delhi was the time of immense pride for me!

In the end, I'm going to conclude things by saying , this NSS is not a society,but it is a family for me and an irreplaceable part of my life!
I will cherish my time in NSS forever.

All the best for the future everyone, may you all achieve greater heights in your life!

Starting as a volunteer, I was very nervous whether I would be able to do justice to the children, whether I will be able to make them understand. All these worries vanished when I interacted with the children. It was only the children who were taught, but i as a volunteer also learnt a lot from: their carefree attitude, the constant smile and them finding joy in small things in life gave a great lessons.

The bond that i formed with the students and the volunteers is something that i cherish till date. From teaching the students together, to discussing about the events around tea to spending days together preparing for the diwali mela- all of these have given me unforgettable memories. The time I have spent here in the three years have left me with a lifetime of experiences and memories. From starting as a young volunteer in 2017 to being at the core of organising events, i have learnt a lot. It made me come out of my comfort zone- it made me the person that I am today and I am very proud to say that I have been a part of an organization as prestigious as NSS.

My journey of being a 'Sahyogi' started with me qualifying my third recruiting interview on Feb. 2, 2021. And since then it has been a rollercoaster ride... giving an adrenaline rush of excitement at times of events and fests, and a lot of stress during the board exams of Sahyog students.

I had this age old love for teaching children since childhood, being the son of teacher. And Sahyog-Sharing Smiles gave me a vibrant platform for the same. I still remember my first online class, teaching mathematics to Suraj - who later made such a deep bond with me and my other batchmates that he's still in contact with us. As our first year of NSS was completely in online mode due to COVID LOCKDOWN, being shy and introvert I never ever tried to interact with any of my peers except one / two seniors and that too because they were my coordinators. It was only in 2nd year of our volunteership that I got to interact and bond with few of my batchmates who, for the rest of my college period, supported and guided me at every step. Second year came with offline mode of College gratefully! And along with that, responsibilities got piled up. But nothing seemed difficult and impossible as I got constant mentorship, support and guidance of handful of dearest seniors Yashika Di, Arihant Bhaiya. Even when they passed out of the college, completing their course degrees they were just a call away to solve my dilemmas at any time of the day.

Sahyog was always like a home for me, whenever I felt drained out or frustrated or just in lassitude, I used to go there and see children play and learn. The students - Subhaan, Insha, Mansha, Sahil, Sohail, Nilesh, Nikhil were so much attached that I still miss meeting them and teaching there. One of my first student - Aditya whom I taught since first year, was so much attached to me that he once told me in my third year - 'Bhaiya, ab aap chle jaooge to main bhi nhi aaunga!' It was so emotional that we both got tears in our eyes that moment.

Being in my 3rd year, I always used to wonder about this phrase that our super seniors told - 'Once a Sahyogi, Always a Sahyogi'. Now I get its real sense, that once you enter this family, you can never rush away from it, (whatever may happen with you) because the love affection and bonding that you share here with your handful of loving people and most importantly the Sahyog students, that will always keep you connected with it.

With an inclination towards social services I joined NSS, but at the same time, I was totally oblivious of the fact of what was in the offing? Recently, the Sahyog wing of NSS - KMC has completed 10 years, upholding the motto of 'Sharing Smiles'. It gives me immense pleasure to share that I have been its part for 3 beautiful years and in the final year I got a chance to serve as the vice-President.

Ranging from various activities, with first and foremost the daily EOTO sessions to Plantation and cleanliness drives, enriching seminars and workshops, blood donation camp and door to door campaigns spreading awareness, NSS provides the youth a platform for one's holistic development.

I am grateful to the initiative, guidance and cooperation that I was endowed with. It was instrumental in making my college life - a productive one!

NSS is not only a word but a whole world in itself. It not only acts as a society but a family which has given me the spirit and motivation to survive in a place alone which is miles away from home. Initially when I joined NSS and we came daily for EOTO sessions under Project Sahyog, it felt that the schedule being so hectic I would not be able to continue with this but I never realized how I have completed almost half and a year in our amazing unit and also I just remember I am not marking my attendance in my diary anymore because now attendance doesn't matter to me much but this bond, this aura is what all matters to me the most. I believe when you interact and spend time with these kids it gives you the utmost satisfaction which is the best thing in the day. When we organize sports, playtime, cultural, etc for these kids the fun, the laughter, the enjoyment and the smile they have on their faces fulfills our motive as well as us. Next best thing is our volunteers which is either our seniors, juniors or our co-mates who have made me to stay, continue and enjoy NSS. The fun, enjoyment, the bond I share with them is beyond explanation. The seniors I got are not only seniors but they are our elder family members. The juniors act as our family members who always makes fun tease as well as show that respect to you. At last our co-mates who have always been a support hand the pillar who have been there day and night along with my seniors which is also one of the major reasons I have been here although it has been a major task to continue but the good feeling and these bonds have made me to always stay that deeply connected that I have no other reason other than being a sole and integral part of NSS. The only wish of mine is that NSS continues till eternity bringing great success we serve this society and continue to enrich the lives of these children and at last the Bonds I have made stay forever and I always cherish them. Continuing to do NSS Hons I don't have words to explain this beautiful and wonderful journey in words. This amazing life of NSS continues and always cherish this is the only wish at last. मेरी NSS यात्रा

मैं जब कॉलेज में पहली बार आया था, तब मैं यहाँ से एकदम अनजान था मुझे ना, तो किसी सोसायटी, टीम वर्क इत्यादि के बारे में नहीं पता था, इसलिए मैंने कई सोसायटियों का आवेदन नहीं किया था, परन्तु जब मैंने पहली बार NSS के में सुना कि वे क्या काम करते हैं?, कैसे करते ये सब सुनकर मुझे इसका भाग बनने की इच्छा जागृत हो गई, जब मैंने इसके साथ काम करना प्रारम्भ किया, तो मुझे एक बोझ या जाल की तरह लग रहा था, परन्तु जब मैं इसको खुद से जोड़कर एक परिवार मनने लगा तो 'मुझे सच्चाई का पता चला। अब तो ऐसे लगता है, कि मैंने दूसरी सोसायटी न चुनकर इसका एक भाग बना और मैं खुद गौरवांविता महसूस कर रहा हूँ। यह परिवार मेरी जिन्दगी को सही मायने में एक नई पहचान तक ले जाने वाला है। और इसके लिए मैं NSS का हमेशा शुक्रगुजार रहूँगा।

NSS में हम, प्रतिदिन EOTO के अन्तर्गत केवल बच्चों को पढ़ते नहीं हैं अपितु खुद तथा बच्चों को एक नयी दिशा तथा रास्ता सिखाते व दिखते हैं। बच्चों के साथ खेलना, पढ़ना मस्ती करना इत्यादि. अति- सुन्दर है। इसके अन्तर्गत कई कार्यक्रम को सफल बनवाना, नेतृत्व गुण, सामाजिक होना इत्यादि ऐसे कई सुगुण आपके अन्दर परिवर्तित हो जाएँगे, जिसकी "वजह से आपका जीवन एक सफल जीवन होगा।

Caste Discrimination in India :A Persistent Struggle For Equality

Today the caste system is one of the major issues that people are facing. It is basically a system that separates people in India. Despite numerous legislative measures and efforts to eradicate it, caste based discrimination continues to persist, affecting the lives of millions of people.

The caste-based discrimination in India has a history that can be traced back over 2 thousand years. In the past, a caste system categorizes people into hierarchical social groups has traditionally led to the oppression of certain low-caste communities. At first, the notion of 'untouchability' was considered as a particularly heinous form of discrimination, in that people from low castes were thought polluters and were to be abandoned by other people who are not at all liked for it. In this way, people from high castes were considered polluted and should be avoided by those from more superior castes.

For example, Dalits who were formerly considered as 'untouchables' have suffered the most from this discriminatory system. The workers were forced into menial jobs, restricted from entering temples and schools, they were subjected to social segregation. The Dalit struggle for equality gained momentum during the Indian independence movement, with leaders like Dr. B.R. Ambedkar advocating for their rights.

While India has made significant strides in addressing caste-based discrimination, it remains a persistent problem. The government has introduced affirmative action policies, including reservations in education and government employment, to promote the development of socially and economically disadvantaged communities such as Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes. These policies aim to uplift marginalized communities and provide equal opportunities for education and job opportunities. These policies have indeed improved the lives of many lower-caste individuals, allowing them access to opportunities that were once denied to them.

VOLUNTEERS' ARTICLES

Efforts to combat caste discrimination in India have included legal and social initiatives, such as the Indian Constitution adopted in 1950, which prohibits caste-based discrimination and untouchability. Laws like the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes (Prevention of Atrocities) Act and the Protection of Civil Rights Act have also been enacted. Social initiatives include educational programs, affirmative action policies, and campaigns to raise awareness and promote social equality. However, despite these efforts, caste discrimination remains a pervasive issue in India. Caste-based discrimination still permeates many aspects of Indian society. In rural areas, especially, Dalits continue to face violence, social ostracism, and economic exploitation. Inter-caste marriages are often met with strong opposition, and some villages remain highly segregated along caste lines.

Subtle forms of caste bias exist in urban areas despite reduced overt discrimination. It impacts housing, employment, social interactions, and marriage choices adhering to traditional caste preferences. The social hierarchy is deeply ingrained and continues to be influential.

CONCLUSION

Despite legal measures and affirmative action policies, caste discrimination remains a deeply ingrained issue in India. Eradicating it will require a comprehensive approach that addresses both legal and societal factors. While progress has been made, the struggle for equality must continue.

WHAT IS GENDER INEQUALITY?

Gender inequality is a discrimination among people on the basis of gender equality is the fundamental right of everyone where all the genders are equally treated everywhere in (work places, society & at their homes too) whether they are male, female or transgender. We all are equal in our democratic country. We have to accept it and give respect and equality to every gender. In this current scenario, the people who are transgender & females are mostly affected. They do not get the respect, equality by people in our country and are facing lots of problem in work places and society. Some common issues are: wage inequality, racial gap education, sexual harassment and many more. To get rid of these inequalities between people government has passed a law to "know your rights". One of the major causes of inequality is lack of awareness about their rights and ability to achieve equality. There is a case of transgender struggling and getting government job:-

Sanjana Singh, 36, has become the first-ever transgender to get a government job in Madhya Pradesh.

The Kamal Nath government has appointed her as personal assistant to the director in the social justice and disabled welfare department. Sanjana has been associated with a voluntary organisation working on the child and women health since 2008. She had to leave her family at the age of 15 to join the transgender community. Her parents hid the fact of her sexuality till she was in class 10. When people finally came to know about this, Sanjana was forced to join the transgender community. Later, she joined an NGO and became a social worker. She is also the only transgender paralegal volunteer in the Madhya Pradesh district legal aid tribunal. She also sits as a judge in the benches of Lok Adalat, where she hears "the pending cases" with the judge.

For her hard work, Sanjana was chosen MP's brand ambassador for the drive. Actor Amitabh Bachchan gave away her an award for her contribution in this field.

FOSTERING LIVES THROUGH EDUCATION

"Education is our passport to the future,
for tomorrow belongs to people who prepare it for today"

To state that Education is vital will mean putting it mildly. Although significance of education can't be enunciated merely in words, I will try my best to elucidate its vitality. Firstly, let's throw some light on the meaning of the word 'Education'. This particular word has been interpreted innumerable times by great many personalities. To put a few, Dr. Zakir Hussain, the former President Of India and a prominent educationist said "Education is the process of the individual mind, getting to its fullest possible development", in the words of Aristotle, an eminent Greek philosopher "Education is creation of sound mind in a sound body". Times have changed, so have the societies but the importance of education has been stressed upon by people from every era. Today, education is a powerful weapon that aids an individual to face the adversaries of life and overcome societal stigmas such as poverty, fear, status to achieve success. For a country like India which is still developing and with population of youth rising than ever before, education becomes all the more significant to create an educated workforce which can help the country to thrive. Education bestows upon an individual a boon to have a different view of the world altogether. It's a catalyst for global peace, fostering tolerance and understanding.

Now let's take a step ahead and look at the ailing state of affairs of education in our country taking in account some facts and figures. According to report published by NSI in 2022, around 23.33% of Indian population is illiterate (can't even read and write). India passed Right of Free and Compulsory Education Act, 2009 almost a decade and a half ago, making education a fundamental right and ensuring free and compulsory schooling and education for children from the age of 6 to 14. School enrollment percentage of children have quite revamped in primary schools but not so much in secondary schools. Almost 20.5 % children in India a never get to attend secondary level schools. Schools in slums have their own stories. Often these schools are overcrowded with inadequate resources and facilities. Quality of education is far substandard than that of private schools in urban localities. This makes it difficult for children to learn and succeed. Looking deeper, we find that societal and economic status of a family has to do a lot with the kind education being provided to children. We can also observe that there is a deficit of right guidance being provided to children at the right time. A very popular proverb is embedded in the minds of the people with backward backgrounds, which says, "Doctor ka beta hi doctor Banega" which can be translated as "Child of a doctor can only become a doctor".

VOLUNTEERS' ARTICLES

Societies with high rate of education tend to be more peaceful having low crime and better overall health. Improving education in India is a multifaceted challenge that requires comprehensive efforts from various stakeholders including educators, government, parents etc. First and foremost duty of government is to invest in infrastructure that is to upgrade and expand school infrastructure especially in rural areas to ensure that all children have access to quality education. Furthermore curriculum should be revised and updated to involve problem solving skills and practical education. Early childhood education programs should be strengthened so as to ensure a strong foundation for children's learning. Especially parents with humble grounds should be encouraged to send their children to not only primary schools but also to secondary schools for further education. Institutions like National Service Scheme (NSS) should be encouraged so that more volunteers undertake the task of teaching deprived children. We at NSS Kirorimal College (Kmc) have endeavoured to impart education to children with indigent backgrounds at our best possible capacity. We believe it is our utmost duty as educated individuals, having been provided with the luxury of education from our childhood to educate deprived children. By educating impoverished children we are not only changing their individual lives but also creating a better environment for their whole community and others also. Improving education in India is a long term endeavour that requires participation of various stakeholders so that every child has access to quality education and they can learn at their full potential.

Tribal Cultural Clashes with Developmental Projects: A Global Perspective

Developmental projects often stand as a double-edged sword, promising economic growth and infrastructural advancements while simultaneously causing cultural clashes, especially with indigenous tribal communities. Around the world, numerous incidents have highlighted the critical need to balance progress with the preservation of ancient tribal cultures.

In India, the Narmada Valley project sparked controversy as it displaced thousands of indigenous people, mainly the Adivasis, from their ancestral lands. This led to protests and litigations, as the project threatened not only their homes but also their traditional way of life.

In Brazil, the Belo Monte Dam project in the Amazon Basin faced fierce resistance from the local tribes, such as the Kayapó and Xikrin. They argued that the dam would disrupt their ecosystems, deprive them of natural resources, and upend their cultural practices.

Canada's Trans Mountain Pipeline expansion project has drawn indigenous opposition, including the First Nations and the Coast Salish people. They argue that the project would damage their traditional territories, including sacred sites, and could lead to oil spills harming their cultural heritage.

Australia witnessed the Ijiluka Uranium Mine conflict, where the Mirarr people protested against the mine's development on their land. They believed the project would compromise their sacred sites and disrupt the ecosystem upon which their culture is deeply dependent.

In the United States, the Dakota Access Pipeline standoff at the Standing Rock Sioux Reservation became a global symbol of indigenous resistance against development. The pipeline threatened their water supply, cultural sites, and overall way of life.

These incidents underscore the pressing need for collaborative approaches to development, where the rights and cultures of tribal communities are respected and protected. Striking a balance between progress and heritage preservation remains a complex challenge that requires careful consideration of both economic and cultural impacts. Only through open dialogue and inclusive decision-making can the world hope to achieve sustainable development that respects the rich tapestry of tribal cultures.

"Navigating the Labyrinth: The College Dilemma and the Quest for Exploration"

College, for many, is a whirlwind of experiences, decisions, and emotions. It's a time when students stand on the precipice of adulthood, filled with dreams and ambitions, yet often overwhelmed by the uncertainties of the future. The college journey is akin to navigating a labyrinth, and the decisions students make can significantly shape their lives. One of the central dilemmas college students face is the uncertainty surrounding their future. The pressure to choose a major and chart a clear career path can be daunting. It's easy to feel trapped in a web of expectations, not knowing if the chosen path will lead to a fulfilling future. This dilemma can lead to sleepless nights, stress, and even self-doubt. However, college is also a time of exploration. It's an opportunity to dip one's toes into various fields of study, to experiment with different extracurricular activities, and to meet people from diverse backgrounds. This urge to explore newer things is a fundamental part of the college experience. It's about discovering one's passions, interests, and values. Balancing the uncertainty of the future with the desire to explore can be tricky. Students often find themselves torn between pursuing a pragmatic, job-oriented major and following their heart's true calling. The key lies in striking a balance between these two, allowing for both personal growth and practical preparation for the future. In this labyrinthine journey, it's crucial for students to seek guidance, make informed choices, and remember that college is not just about the destination but the journey itself. The dilemmas and confusion are part of the process, shaping individuals and preparing them for the myriad possibilities that lie ahead. College life is a transformative experience, and it's through embracing these uncertainties and exploring the unknown that students can truly find their path in this complex maze.

BOON OF TECHNOLOGY: Bringing a Menace of Privacy

Intellectual property is the most authentic belonging of humans, their creativity and invention is something only that particular person has control and right over. It includes GI Tags, copyright for any literary, musical, artistic work, trademarks, designs and patents for scientific inventions. But with the advent of technology which has been a major boon to entire world, it has at the same led to a surge in piracy which is significant concern in the entire world with India having a substantial amount of impact. It has led to a dip in human creativity because of its wide number of downsides.

When we read or talk about piracy, we normally co-relate only to something technical in nature. But piracy is anything that involves duplicating or taking away the ingenuity of someone's work, be it their artistic talent, written work, music, movies etc. There are a large number of sectors where piracy has been a major hindrance in its growth: - GI Tags: - It is a tag provided to products specific to a particular region or state and must have qualities and composition distinct to that geographical location. But piracy is a barrier here too. A huge number of counterfeited products circulate in the market.

As a result, there is decrease in revenue income from the indigenous products, the craftsman and artisans involved do not get the due amount for their hard work. Whereas the counterfeited products sold at a low-price compromise on the quality thereby harming the reputation of the original product. For example, the most famous Banaras Sarees, Kashmiri Carpets, Etikoppaka toys etc have faced the issue. Patents: - They are given to unique scientific discoveries made by people. But when there is such a major threat of privacy and piracy, many tend to lose the motivation to bring out their work on a larger scale in the public. It takes a lot of resilience and uphill battle to invent something, so it's natural for them to fear about their work being discredited or trivialized due to incessant fabrication and counterfeiting.

VOLUNTEERS' ARTICLES

Authors: They are a group of professionals who are facing the maximum impact of piracy. It takes a great deal for a person to write and publish an entire book. But the wide dissemination of books in pirated sites online has reduced the sales and royalties of authors who have put their ardent efforts and given their all to publish a book. Although it has exposed an author to a global audience, it has at the same time scaled down their actual source of income. Not only an author, a wide amount of workforce involved in the final publishing of the book who are also been deeply affected. It has driven down their enthusiasm to produce something creative and innovative.

Recently the Author's guild had filed a suit against major companies developing AI like OpenAI, Microsoft, IBM, Alphabet, Stability, Meta. They had alleged that the generative AI had accessed a significant amount of their books especially from pirated sites online, thus scarring their profession and originality. They believed that ChatGPT has exploited their exclusively copyrighted work, with the tech giants trying to capitalize on such forms of piracy.

There has also been a decline in traditional bookstores, where earlier the amount of crowd going crazy for physical books was a sight to behold. Now many don't even prefer reading an entire book, they simply access its summary online.

Entertainment Industry: According to surveys by various sources, it was concluded that the renowned Indian film industry was severely affected by piracy during the pandemic. The rise in OTT content has facilitated piracy to a great extent. The availability of streaming platforms, torrent, telegram has made access to premium content really simple. A huge mass of personnel is involved behind making of a movie or web content whose bread and butter depends on the amount of revenue generated from their work, so consequently these people's livelihood dwindles down. The surge in illicit content piracy has been a major concern for Indian Government. The quality of content and innovation has declined, people's motivation to work on ingenious content has reduced. Digital copies of books with copyright are altered, formatted and edited without the consent of owner of the work. The extensive publication of content has led to creation of a herd culture where people are making the same kind of mainstream content to tap masses, rather than producing something diverse and exclusive, thus creating scarcity of people wanting to invest in creativity and variations.

VOLUNTEERS' ARTICLES

According to a report by McAfee, pirated streaming sites gain money through ads which often contain dubious links, which then attempt "to install malware or steal passwords and personal information." The advancement of technology has caused such setbacks for masses, but at the same time we can efficiently utilise this weapon to trace and monitor proliferation of such poached work. Effective measures to prevent the installation of malwares should be taken. There needs to be an awareness among consumers on the kind of products they are using or kind of content they are accessing. But every coin has two sides. Let's look at this issue from the standpoint of people who access pirated content or those who buy replicas of a bona fide work. In a country like India, where people hustle and grind themselves day in and day out for a decent standard of living, they also need a sort of rejuvenation, but everyone can't afford the exorbitant prices of OTT subscriptions. People who have a knack for reading can't afford premium quality original books, so they prefer poorly reprint versions or access duplicated copies of the book online. It has also given them an immense amount of options to read whatever they feel only with minimal cost of buying a data package and conveniently accessing these contents. People who like a certain traditional product can't afford to bear to pay for an authentic work, so they prefer the replicas. So, the government needs to implement an effective policy framework whereby there is use of modern technology like advanced tracking systems to track plagiarised and pirated work along with integration of blockchain technology where authentic works can be stored permanently. People possess an enormous amount of trust in the legal system of the country and sometimes take the courage of publishing something on a wider scale because of it, so there is a need for strengthening the Intellectual Property Laws and a concise legal framework governing piracy. But at the same to ensure the contentment of general masses, it should work on the price determination of products and subscription fees, so that both the creators and consumers are appeased.

Social Media as a Weapon of New Age War: Examples and Solutions

Social media has become an integral part of our lives, connecting us with friends and family, providing us with news and entertainment, and even helping us to find jobs. However, social media can also be used as a weapon of war, with states, non-state actors, and even individuals using it to spread disinformation, propaganda, and hate speech.

One of the most common ways that social media is used as a weapon of war is through the spread of disinformation. Disinformation is false or misleading information that is deliberately spread to deceive people. It can be used to sow discord, undermine trust in institutions, and even incite violence. For example, during the 2016 US presidential election, Russian operatives used social media to spread disinformation about the candidates, including Hillary Clinton. They also used social media to create fake news articles and websites that were designed to look like legitimate news sources. Another way that social media is used as a weapon of war is through the spread of propaganda. Propaganda is information that is used to promote a particular political cause or point of view. It can be used to manipulate public opinion, recruit new members, and justify violence. For example, the terrorist group ISIS has been known to use social media to spread propaganda about its activities. ISIS uses social media to recruit new members, share videos of its attacks, and promote its ideology. Social media can also be used to spread hate speech. Hate speech is speech that attacks a person or group on the basis of attributes such as race, religion, ethnicity, national origin, sexual orientation, or gender identity. Hate speech can be used to create an atmosphere of hostility and intimidation, and it can even lead to violence. For example, in Myanmar, social media was used to spread hate speech against the Rohingya Muslim minority. This hate speech contributed to the genocide of the Rohingya, in which over 700,000 Rohingya were killed and over a million were displaced but just like a meal is incomplete without a desert, just like that a writing is incomplete without discussion of what should be done?

There are a number of things that can be done to address the problem of social media as a weapon of war. One important step is to educate the public about the dangers of disinformation, propaganda, and hate speech. People need to be able to identify these types of content and to be critical of the information they see online. Another important step is to hold social media companies accountable. Social media companies need to do more to remove harmful content from their platforms and to prevent it from being spread. This includes investing in better content moderation tools and algorithms, and working with governments and other organizations to develop and implement best practices. Finally, it is important to support free and independent media. Free and independent media can provide people with accurate and reliable information, which can help to counter the spread of disinformation and propaganda. Social media is a powerful tool that can be used for good or for bad. It is important to be aware of the dangers of social media as a weapon of war and to take steps to address them.

Echoes of Friendship: Navigating the Tides of Time

In the story of six dear friends, once so near,
Life's twists and turns filled my heart with fear.

College and careers led us far and wide,
Leaving me longing, my heart opens wide.

Emotions, like tides, ebb and they flow,
Leaving me wondering how time could go.

Our loyalty remains, our love endures,
Yet a part of my heart still silently moors.

The miles that divide us feel like a theft,
Leaving me longing for what's left.
I wish for the days when we were all near,
When life's burdens were fewer, our paths clear.

Now, I yearn for the moments we once knew,
To turn back the clock and start anew
. But as life moves forward, we can only reflect,
On the friendship we cherish, the love we protect.

'Whispers of Hope: A Decade of Sahyog's Gift to Underprivileged Hearts'

In the heart of a bustling city's midst,
A project named "Sahyog" exists.
With NSS KMC's guiding hand,
A decade of care, like grains of sand.

Underprivileged children from different classes,
Gather here, where everyone surpasses,
Expectations of what life could be,
In this haven of love and unity.

Every day, they teach and play,
Chasing life's shadows far away.
In this haven, they learn and grow,
With hearts that kindness freely bestow.

Laughter and joy, like a river, flows,
In Sahyog, the love for learning glows.
A decade's legacy, a story to be told,
Of nurturing futures, pure as gold.

Sahyog, a name etched in eternity's embrace,
Spreading goodwill, leaving a heartfelt trace.
With hopes and dreams that never part,
It's a testament to love's endless art

जीवन पथ

तुझसे रूठ जाऊं ऐ जिंदगी
मेरा यह इरादा नहीं,
यह मेरा खुद से है
किसी और से वादा नहीं।

घर से निकलता है राही,
दिल में कुछ अरमान लिए।
किसी और का नहीं, साथी,
स्वयं के सपनों का संसार लिए।
उसके कदमों से निकलता है सपनों का संगीत,
यह संगीत ही है राही का प्रेरणा गीत।

तुझसे रूठ जाऊं ऐ जिंदगी
मेरा यह इरादा नहीं,
यह मेरा खुद से है
किसी और से वादा नहीं।

पथ बड़े विकराल हैं,
मंजिल समंदर पार है,
राही तू तूफानों का खिलाड़ी,
तू खुद में ही परमात्मा का अवतार है।
तुझसे रूठ जाऊं ऐ जिंदगी
मेरा यह इरादा नहीं,
यह मेरा खुद से है
किसी और से वादा नहीं।

राह में आती हैं मुश्किलें तो आने दे,
परिहास उड़ाते नादान पंछियों को जाने दे।
यह मुश्किलें ही सफलता का आभास कराएंगी,
युवराज तुझे संसार शिखर का सिरमौर बनाएंगी।
तुझसे रूठ जाऊं ऐ जिंदगी
मेरा यह इरादा नहीं
यह मेरा खुद से है
किसी और से वादानहीं

परिस्थितियां ही कराती हैं जिम्मेदारियों का एहसास,
बताती है, समझाती है, कि तेरे सपने अभी नहीं है पास।
तुझे अभी और भी परिश्रम करना होगा,
तुझे और भी बड़ी चुनौतियों से डटकर लड़ना होगा।

तुझसे रूठ जाऊं ऐ जिंदगी
मेरा यह इरादा नहीं,
यह मेरा खुद से है
किसी और से वादा नहीं।

राह में मिलेंगे असंख्य के भटकाने वाले,
अपनों से अपनों को ही लड़वाने वाले।
जिंदगी तो एक लंबा सफर है,
राही तू इस सफर का मजा लें क्योंकि आखिरी मंजिल तो मौत है।

तुझसे रूठ जाऊं ऐ जिंदगी
मेरा यह इरादा नहीं,
यह मेरा खुद से है
किसी और से वादा नहीं।

जो गिरते हैं, संभलते हैं, उठते हैं,
और फिर आगे बढ़ते हैं,
उन्हें ही मिलती है सफलता
गिर कर घर लौट जाने वाले तो सिर्फ पाते हैं विफलता।

तुझसे रूठ जाऊं ऐ जिंदगी
मेरा यह इरादा नहीं,
यह मेरा खुद से है
किसी और से वादा नहीं।

मुसाफिर

आज कलम उठाई तो कुछ लिखने का मन किया
जो आज तक नहीं कहा वो कहने का मन किया
लिखने ही चला जैसे पन्ना निकला के
हाथ में लेके कलम और दिल संभाल के
तो सोचा आज क्या लिखूं
इश्क लिखूं या जज्बात लिखूं?
ये सोचके मैं बंधन में फंस गया
दिल की सुनु या दिमाग की? इसी उलझन में फंस गया

सोचा बातें साफ लिखूंगा
एक दो नहीं बल्कि पूरी कायनात लिखूंगा
फिर बोला दिल ने तू कर क्या रहा है
जो नहीं करने की सोची थी तू वह कर रहा है?

तू पागल है, दीवाना है
तुझे दुनिया को क्या दिखाना है?
मैं बोला कि बात ये नहीं है
दुनिया से क्या लेना मुझको
मुझको बस ये बताना है
कि मैं बस एक मुसाफिर हूं
जिसे मीलों दूर जाना है

मेरा मकसद एक मंजिल था
जिसके लिए छूटा जमाना है
मैं वो हूं जो ना डरता था
ना वो जो किसिपे मरता था
मैं बस एक दीवाना हूं
जिसका एक फ़साना था
जिसका एक ठिकाना था

पर अब तो मैंने सुना है
लोग बस यहीं कहते हैं
की
वो भी क्या दीवाना था
एक ना एक दिन तो उसे मर ही जाना था!

देर

हमेशा देर कर देता हूं मैं
कोई जरूरी बात कहनी हो
कोई वादा निभाना हो
उसे आवाज देनी हो
उसे वापस बुलाना हो
हमेशा देर कर देता हूं मैं

कुछ चीजें अधूरी ही सुंदर होती हैं

सीधी सीऽऽ, टेडी सीऽऽ मेड़ी सीऽऽ
सुन्दरऽऽ हसीन बनने उसे थे हम चले

दबे दबे पाँव से आया था वो
उम्मीद आँखों में लाया था वो
सपनों को उसके उड़ान देने ऽऽ चले थे हम

कुछ सहयोग तेराऽऽ, कुछ सहयोग मेराऽऽ
आशा है सपनों को हम हकीकत बनायेंगेऽऽऽ
कुछ सहयोग तेराऽऽ, कुछ सहयोग मेरा ऽऽ
कमजोरियों को भी हम, ताकत बनायेंगेऽऽ ,

कैसे तूने उठा ली, ये जिम्मेदारी माँ ?
एक दिन तेरा नाम रौशन, मैं कर के आऊँ माँ
जब रौशनी भी अंधेरी थी, हर कदम पे जब बस लकीर थी
तु मेरे अशकों को ना रोक पाई थी, इस दर्द में भी गहराई थी

तोड़ेंगे सारी बेड़ीयाँ, हमको ना बाँध सकेंगी
थामेंगे हाथ एक दुजे का, हासिल करेंगे उचाईयाँऽऽ
